Allies Fix Their Penalties

(By Associated Press)
London, March 7—Bulletin—The Allies this afternoon decided to apply penalties to Germany for non-fulfillment of the reparations requirements. The British Premier said he must announce, on behalf of the Allies, a failure to come to even an approximate understanding with Germany "Until we get proposals from Germany which mean a permanent settlement there can be no peace" he declared.

The penalties are Allied occupation of the cities of Duisburg, Düsseldorf, and Ruprecht, in the German industrial area beyond the Rhine; the imposition by each Allied country of such a tax upon German imports as they may deem fitting; the establishment of a customs boundary under Allied control along the Rhine.

SUIT OVER JACKSON LUMBER KING'S ESTATE

Frankfort, Ky., March 7—Judgment of the Clark circuit court in the suit over the estate of the late James M. Thomas, Jackson county "lumber king," who owned a vast area of virgin forest on War Fork of Station Camp creek, was reversed by the Court of Appeals Friday, in an opinion by Judge Quinn. The case is sent back for more evidence concerning accounts.

Thomas had acquired up to the time of his death in 1905 no less than 31 square miles of timber and coal lands in Jackson and Rockcastle counties, some of it purchased for 50 cents an acre. When he died his two sons, W. R. and R. L. Thomas, who, with his son-in-law, T. E. Moore, were trustees, bought the estate for $190,000 and later sold it for $400,000.

His daughter, Mary Thomas Ireland, of Lexington, received her share of the proceeds, but later proceedings were instituted for a share of the $400,000 realized by her brothers and the Court of Appeals held that they must be considered trustees for the estate and must divide with the other heirs. Most of the original heirs since have died. The present suit involves expenses of the settlement and compensation of the trustees.

LOCAL FIRM TO BUILD BERA WATERWORKS

Moynehan & Forbes Get Contract to Construct $50,000 Plant, With 5-Acre Lake

One of the largest construction contracts to be handled in this section this coming year, has recently been secured by the local firm of Moynehan and Forbes in the building of Bera's new water works system. The cost of the big operation will be something like $40,000 or $50,000. The local firm has already started moving its machinery and equipment to the site, which is in Pig Hollow, about four and a half miles east of Bera.

It is planned to construct a large storage lake of about five acres, to have a capacity of 35,000,000 gallons of water. The water will be retained by a big concrete dam 35 feet high. A large amount of piping and other equipment will be required for the big job, upon which the local contractors will be engaged several months.

This well known local firm secured the big contract after close competitive bidding with a number of much larger firms. They are being warmly congratulated upon winning such a nice contract and those who have taken cognizance of their work in the past know that they will make a first class job of it in every way.

SUMMER SCHOOLS FOR TEACHERS

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., March 7—Summer schools for teachers will be placed in every county in the state if a plan just broached to county superintendents by State Superintendent George Colvin, is adopted. The plan is designed to relieve expected pressure on the state normals and the University of Kentucky as a result of the laws passed by the 1920 legislature requiring higher qualifications for teachers.

The plan contemplates the use of school buildings and facilities throughout the state with competent professors in charge. Teachers who take the prescribed courses will be given full credit the same as if they had attended the regular summer session of a normal school.

The minimum number of students for establishment of a summer school, according to Superintendent Colvin, probably would be about fifty. They would receive high school and professional training and the last week would absorb the usual institute week, making unnecessary attendance at annual institute at a different time.

Not only does the superintendent suggest that such schools be asked for but he also urges that salary schedules be designed to take cognizance of attendance at these schools. He also calls attention to the fact that in North Carolina last year a series of 80 such schools were held with an attendance of 7,000 students.

At the same time he will take along Mrs. Lizzie Finney and Miss Florence Turpin, sentenced to five and three years respectively, for obtaining money by false pretenses. They were sentenced at the October term of circuit court, but their sentences have just been affirmed by the Court of Appeals, and they have been in jail here awaiting final action by the state's highest court.

About a dozen divorces were asked at the recent term of court here, but final action will not be taken on those that were granted until all costs are paid and then decrees are formally entered.

HARRY RICE SHOWS 'EM HOW TO FARM

Popular Richmond Boy Takes Prizes on Beef Cattle at Lexington Recently

(From Lancaster Record)
Harry Rice, formerly of Richmond, but now a full-fledged Gardardite, has taken up agriculture on his father's farm near Lancaster, and takes to his work like a duck to water. Since Harry has cast his lot with us, he has made many friends in the county and city, and is very popular, especially among the younger set.

He has recently graduated from a four-year course in agriculture at the Iowa State College at Ames, and is thoroughly prepared to take up the work which he has assumed. He is a son of Mr. Z. T. Rice, of Richmond, who is well known here where he often comes to look after his farming interests.

Harry displayed unusual efficiency at the Kentucky Beef Cattle Association held recently at Lexington during Farmers' Week, when he won two of the cash prizes on estimating the nearest weight of two steers that were butchered at the experiment station.

The following letter from that department will be read by Harry's friends with interest:

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 19, 1921.
Mr. Harry D. Rice,
Lancaster, Ky.

Dear Mr. Rice: Enclosed please find check of the Kentucky Beef Cattle Association for $2 in payment of second prize on your estimate of the dressed weight of steer number 1 here during Farmers' Week. The steer weighed alive 1,290 pounds and dressed out 808. Two men tied for the first with an estimate of 806.25. Your estimate was 806.15 pounds.

Steer number 2, weighing 832 pounds alive, dressed 525.75. You won second place in this contest with an estimate of 525.12. The second prize was $2.00, therefore, the check I am enclosing for the two prizes is $4.00.

I wish to congratulate you on the fine showing you made. I am wondering if you are a son of Z. T. Rice, of Richmond. Very truly yours,
E. S. GOOD,
Chairman Animal Industry Group

GEOFFREY MORGAN WANTS FACTORIES

To Take Care of Great Amount of Raw Materials Kentucky Farmers Ship Out

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., March 7—An aggregate of 700,000,000 pounds of agricultural raw material, produced in Kentucky, is sent out of the state with the farmer paying the freight, to be manufactured, according to Geoffrey Morgan, secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation. The retailer pays the freight cost back with the consumer ultimately paying it both ways, he says, because the state has not the factories to prepare its own products.

"They call Louisville 'the gateway,'" he said. "We want the gate closed. It is now standing wide open. All we want is a chance to co-operate with the business men of the cities of the state and we will help get factories here."

Citing a few of the chief products of Kentucky, he said that of 250,000,000 pounds of tobacco produced in the state each year less than 20,000,000 pounds is manufactured in the state. The hemp industry, he said, once was important but now has been abandoned by the Kentucky farmer. There is no Kentucky market for it, he said.

The normal production of buckwheat, he said, is 250,000 bushels. Because there are no mills in Kentucky, only a small part of it is raised in Kentucky.

There is stored in Louisville, he said, 400,000 pounds of wool, because no concern here manufactures woolen goods. Eighty million dollars worth of livestock is shipped to Louisville annually, he said. Of this $60,000,000 worth is sent elsewhere for butchering and a great deal of this comes back with the extra cost added. He said the principal livestock market for the stock raising section is Cincinnati, whereas Kentucky cities should be getting this business.

PAYNE RE-ELECTED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Popular City Superintendent to Head Schools Another Year—Other Business

The Board of Education of the city of Richmond held its regular March meeting Thursday night, March 3rd, with the following members of the board present: John Noland, H. G. Sandlin, J. C. Chenault, Z. T. Rice and D. B. McKinney. After disposing of routine business the board took up the election of superintendent and by unanimous vote of those present, Supt. John Howard Payne was re-elected for a period of one year. It was decided to adjourn until March 15th, at which time the election of high school teachers will be taken up and disposed of, if possible. The election of grade teachers will be taken up at the regular April meeting.

The report of the superintendent showed the schools to be in good condition, and it was the feeling of the board that the school has been particularly fortunate during the present year in having a splendid faculty both in the high school and in the grades. Many improvements have been made in the buildings at Madison High School, a new gymnasium has been built and the building generally has been repaired and improved, one of the most important improvements being the installation of a heating plant. The board voted to join the county board of education in the suit of Madison County Board of Education vs. Trustees of Walters' Collegiate Institute, and authorized City Attorney J. P. Chenault to file its answer and enter its appearance in said suit.

The re-election of Prof. John Howard Payne as superintendent shows the confidence which the board has in his administration of the schools. Mr. Payne stands very high among the public school men of the state, and has the hearty support of his faculty and student body, as well as citizens generally of the city.
